

145 - 11th Street

This is an elegant 2nd Empire French Style house that features a mansard roof and “quoins” which are the large blocks at the corners of the house. This fine stone example exhibits a trim porch of vertical proportions and a decorative band of fish scale shingles on the mansard roof. This house was built c. 1890s by A.P. Braun, a hardware merchant.